GRACE & PEACE

A LETTER OF THANKS FROM MELANIE YORK
OF THE WINTER WEATHER SURVIVAL DRIVE

January 19, 2026

*Reverend Dr. Andrew Taylor-Troutman, Pastor
Chapel in the Pines Presbyterian Church
314 Great Ridge Parkway
Chapel Hill, NC 27516*

Dear Reverend Taylor-Troutman and Church Family,

Happy New Year! It is hard to believe that now over four years ago we began an endeavor to provide warmth to our Chatham County community that became the Chatham Winter Weather Survival Drive. You and the Session have been steadfast in your support and encouragement over these years. I want to express gratitude to you, the Session members and the wonderful, invaluable volunteers for collecting and delivering donations. Special thanks to Mark Herboth and Deborah Kay Hughes for their extra dedication and kindness. Thank you to the congregation for the ongoing generous donations. This was a particularly challenging year due to my family obligations. However, while we had a late start and abbreviated collection period, due to the support of Chapel in the Pines we persevered.

We held two distribution events in Siler City with 500 in attendance and in Pittsboro with 112 people in need receiving winter items. In addition we provided items to Salvation Army of Chatham, Chatham County School System McKinney-Vento, Love Chatham Transitional Housing and others. An estimated 1000 winter coats and countless other items have been collected and distributed from November to date. The Chatham Winter Weather Survival Drive mission to provide warm protection from the dangers of winter weather by collecting and distributing winter outerwear, blankets and sleeping bags has been made possible and greatly enhanced by the support, encouragement and kindness received from Chapel in the Pines. Thank you!

With gratitude,

*Melanie Y. York, Director
Chatham Winter Weather Survival Drive Program*

† ASK A PASTOR

REV. DR. ANDREW TAYLOR-TROUTMAN

QUESTION

What was Jesus like as a child?

Dear Pastor,

What was Jesus like as a child?

The Gospels jump from the birth of Jesus to his adult ministry, with the exception being Luke's story of 12-year-old Jesus in the Temple. More on that below.

But first, there are extracanonical gospels, which are texts not found in the New Testament, that provide stories about Jesus as a child. "The Infancy Gospel of Thomas" describes Jesus from 5 to 12 years old. He is presented as a precocious child who studied the scriptures and had magic powers. For instance, he made 12 clay sparrows and then brought them to life. Interestingly, this story is also found in the Quran.

Far less adorable, there are stories of Jesus cursing and killing two children because they teased him! When the boy's parents complained to Mary and Joseph, Jesus caused those parents to become blind! Jesus later reversed these curses, resurrecting the dead children and restoring the sight of their parents. He made a feast out of a single grain of wheat and stretched a wooden board so that it fit the bed Joseph had made. He also healed James, his later disciple, from a snake bite and brought a man back to life who had fallen off a roof!

While entertaining, the early church fathers, like Eusebius, recognized that these stories were written down long after Jesus lived (probably in the fourth or fifth century), and so they considered them to be legends. That's why they are not included in our New Testament.

However, Luke 2:41–51 contains a story from The Infancy Gospel of Thomas. Jesus is 12 years old and stays behind his parents to study in the Temple. We can discern from that text that Jesus already had a remarkable understanding of the scriptures (the rabbis were impressed). His family was religiously observant, so it is likely that they regularly attended their local synagogue. Perhaps Jesus was mentored by local rabbis and other teachers. By the age of 12, he had also developed a strong sense of this divine mission: “Did you not know that I must be in my Father’s house?” That response is a little cheeky, right? It suggests tension with his parents, which is later reflected in his adult ministry (see Matthew 12:48–50; Luke 8:19–21).

According to the New Testament, Jesus did not curse little boys, but he did cast out demons. He didn't cause people to go blind, but he did restore sight, heal diseases, and bring people back to life. Did he practice these miracles as a child?

It's fun to think about!

In hope,
Andrew
